Unique and Unrivaled Entertain ment by this Company of Foreign Artists.

The Mexican Typical Orchestra gave The Mexican Typical Orchestra gave their first concert at the Theatre last evening, and although the attendance was only fair, it was an intelligent and appreciative audience that gathered to listen to what was undoubtedly one of the finest instrumental concerts ever given in Salt Lake. The programme con-sisted of selections from noted composers, and in concerted and solo playing every member proved himself an artist; such rich harmony, such delicate shading, and uch marvelous interweaving of tone reducing an effect which reaches all the such marvelous interweaving of tone, producing an effect which reaches all the sources of emotion and places the listener under a spell of veritable enchantment. If one feature of last night's programme were to be mentioned separately it would be Sciubert's "Sorenale." Perhaps in this, more than in any other selection, the stringed instruments of the Mexicaus proved the most acceptable, and the lovely composition, played with a delicacy and warmth of execution almost indescribable, set the attribute. The Judiciary Committee reported adversely on substitute for H. F. No. 16, for the punishment of sexual crimes, and the bill was shelved.

The Committee on Claims reported on the projection to place $2,000 in the general appropriation bill for paying Utah county for the use of the court house by the District Court. They recommended that $1,000 be placed in the bill for that purpose. Mr. Francis stated that the Pirst District Court rented rooms in Ogden for holding court, and the Government refused to pay rent for more than one room in the District, and he did not think it right for Utah county to pay the whole or half rent for the District, and the money should come from the Territorial treasury.

Mr. Hammond did not think so, and opposed the motion, as also did Mr. Sharp. After considerable discussion the report was alopted by the President voting "yes," to make the required seven.

C. F. No. 42, amending section 156, compiled laws, describing boundary lines between Weber and Davis counties, passed its third reading. The bill was rejected.

A recess of one hour was taken. Several communications were received from the House, one of which regarding the letter from Auditor Clayton asking to be relieved of the custody of cancelled auditors' warrants was discussed. The warrants having been cancelled by rubber stamps only, it was resolved to appoint a committee to destroy the warrants, and Francis and Hatch were named to act for the Council.

Veto messages were received from His Excellency the Governor on the following bills:

C. F. No. 8, relating to bighways; C. F. No. 38, amending the school laws; C. F. No. 38, amending the school laws; C. F. No. 8, pertaining to insurance companies; and C. F. No. 6, for licensing and regulating the sale of intoxicating lignors.

On the general appropriation bill being again returned from the House with amendments, the Council refused to concern striking out the appropriation to Samuel Casier, and in giving Ulintak county $1,000 for bridge purposes. The rest of the items were concurred in.

E. M. Bynon is in the Park arranging for his permanent location here in the near future. Mr. Bynon informs us that the troubles of the Morgan group of mines will be soon over, the case coming up in court in the early part of next month. The property will be developed, and there is no doubt in the minds of the Park public that the Morgan property is indeed a rich one. Situator close to the Daly, it is in good country, and is dedecopment will be watched with interest.

At the Sampson mine, everything is quiet. The only work being done at the mine is contract work, and only a few men are busy. The drain tunnel is being publied, preparatory to extensive developments during the coming summer.

The first social given by the Park City we miles, and change horses two or three times, for the remarkably low sum of $1, is a mystery to every one.

The first social given by the Park City Dancing Citob, last Thursday night, was a very enjoyable success. These socials are given by the club to vary the monotony of society affairs in the Park, and are thoroughly appreciated by those who participate.

Mr. Chas, Gitch, the foreman of the Crescent mine, went to Salt Lake. Tuesday, feeling unwell.

J. H. Temple, the rustling traveling agent of Devore & Son, Chicago, spent a few days in the Park this week.

"No, sir."

The Judge fixed his penetrating eyes on Mr. Snell, and in his quiet but impressive manner proceeded to remind him of the consequences of his course, stating that it would place him deservedly among criminals who were guilty of other violations of the law. After delivering a short, cutting lecture, the Judge imposed the usual penalty of six months' imprisonment and $300 fine and costs, and Mr.
Snell was conducted to his new abode in
